TOLL OF LIVES IS TAKEN BY STORM NEAR JANESVILLE

Nine Known to Have Been Killed and Others Dying as Result of Cyclone Saturday

COMMUNICATION IS CUT OFF

Town of Hanover Wiped Out of Existence; Buildings Utterly Destroyed

ROCK COUNTY IS ALSO SWEEPED

City of Janesville Has Narrow Escape; Storm is Freak; Property Loss Heavy

JANESVILLE, Wis., Nov. 13.—Nine persons known to be dead, at least a half score more or less seriously injured and a property loss of over a million dollars is today the toll of the cyclone that swept a stretch of territory from ten to forty rods wide and twenty miles long in southern Wisconsin late Saturday.

Wire communication with the district is slowly being re-established today and fragmentary reports tell of a scene of unprecedented waste and destruction.

A report that four persons in addition to eight then known dead, had perished near Hanover, proved to be another report of the deaths of four members, the entire family of Anton Schmidt, a farmer near that place.

The death list as revised is as follows: Anton Schmidt, 55, Hanover, Wis.; Alice Schmidt, 18; Rega Schmidt, 15; August Schmidt, 14; Helen Austin, 5, Milton, Wis.; Mrs. John Crowder, 80, lived near Orfordville, Wis.; Mrs. Elizabeth Proeder, 35, near Orfordville; Leo Lentz, 16, Hanover, Wis.; Penny Korbin, 8, near Janesville.

Of the injured it is believed none will die.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—More than a score of lives were lost, over $1,500,000 damage done to buildings, farms and shipping, and great suffering entailed among the poor by a storm which swept the middle west during the last two days and left in its wake bitter cold weather.

Revised reports today indicate that not less than twelve persons were killed in Wisconsin towns near the Illinois border, the fatalities all occurring in the wreckage of buildings demolished by a tornado-like wind.

The storm cut a swath about a quarter of a mile wide over twenty miles of Wisconsin, almost sweeping that strip clean of all buildings. A deluge of rain followed the wind. Today the devastated territory is held fast in near zero weather. Communication has not yet been re-established, and for this reason reports are only fragmentary.

It was reported that an entire (Continued on Page 6, Column 2)

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Probably snow tonight or Tuesday with rising temperature.

For Minnesota: Increasing cloudiness tonight and Tuesday; rising temperature.

For Wisconsin: Snow tonight or Tuesday; warmer tonight.

For Iowa: Increasing cloudiness tonight and Tuesday; warmer tonight and east portion Tuesday.

Weather Notes

The storm in this section Saturday passed over the lake region to the north Atlantic coast and the high pressure area and cold wave are now central over the gulf and south Atlantic states. These pressure movements caused rain or snow from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic coast with severe gales and a decided drop in temperature.

Another storm is developing on the north Pacific slopes and rain or snow has occurred from the Pacific coast to western North Dakota and continues this morning; and the temperature has risen as far east as the plains states. The pressure is relatively high in Alberta and the temperature ranges from 12 to 16 degrees below zero.

The easterly movement of the Pacific storm will likely cause rain or snow in this section tonight or Tuesday with higher temperature.

POWERS WAIT FOR LAND SCRAMBLE IN THE FAR EAST

Russia Sends Troops in Preparation of Disintegration of Chinese Empire

SLEEPING GIANT AWAKENING

Rebels Don't Propose to See Power Pass Into the Hands of the Aliens

THEY WILL FORM A REPUBLIC

Delegates of Fourteen Provinces to Meet in Shanghai; Nankin Is in Flames

VLADIVOSTOK, Nov. 13.—Fifteen hundred Cossacks who entrained here yesterday for Peking are said, on high authority, today, to be intended as an advance guard of the troops the Russian government intends to send to the Chinese capital to look after the czar's interests in the international scramble for territory expected to follow the empire's disintegration, believed at St. Petersburg to be a certainty of the near future.

Capture Che Foo

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13.—The rebels took formal possession of Che Foo today without further resistance from the imperialists.

A reward of $200,000 has been offered by the rebels, following a military conference at Foo Chow, for the head of General Chang Hsun, the imperialist commander at Nankin, who was responsible for the massacre of Chinese following the failure of the revolutionist attempt to capture the city. It is reported that the rebel force before Nankin has at last received the long delayed supplies of ammunition and renewed their attack, and that the city is now burning.

In answer to the invitations for a gathering in Shanghai of delegates from the fourteen provinces now in rebellion against the Manchus, to establish a provisional republican national assembly, messages are coming in from all over the south to the effect that delegates may be expected here as rapidly as the disturbed condition of the country will permit.

Russia Sends Cossacks

Much uneasiness is felt in high revolutionary circles over news that Russia is sending Cossacks to Peking in anticipation of a disintegration of China. The revolutionists have been afraid from the first of a foreign attempt to take advantage of the confusion prevailing throughout the empire for a series of territorial grabs, and despite the denials from Washington, a good deal of credence is given to reports that the United States is leading a movement for "internationalizing" the Yangtze valley.

The result of this alarm is the steady growth of an anti-foreign sentiment which promises to culminate in a violent outbreak in the event of occidental intervention.

The view among the more enlightened revolutionists is that China is on the eve of an awakening which will speedily place their country among the mightiest of the world's powers and they do not propose to see it pass without a struggle, at the moment of its regeneration, into the hands of aliens. They have treated foreigners with the greatest consideration thus far as a means of preventing outside interference. Should it become evident that interference is inevitable in any case, there will be a terrific reaction against them.

Dynasty Intends to Fight

Yuan Shi Kai is in conference with the emperor's advisers at Peking today. It is the general impression that he is urging the desirability of the ruler's abdication in consideration of assurances of personal safety for himself and court, and a pension from the republican government. The government seems disinclined to act on this advice.

Indications that the dynasty intends to fight for northern China if though the south may be hopelessly lost to it, are regarded in diplomatic circles as auguring ill for peace for a long time to come.

Manchu resistance in the north, probably will mean a prolonged civil war between the northern and southern divisions of the country.

THREE FOUND MURDERED

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Each with a bullet wound in the head, Antonina Delano, 63 years old, her daughter, Marchel La For, 25, and the latter's five year old daughter, were found dead shortly after noon today on the kitchen floor of their home in Brooklyn. A brother of the young woman victim is missing and the police suspect him of the triple murder.

THRICE WIDOWED, HELD TO EXPLAIN DEATHS

CHICAGO.—Following so closely on the heels of the Vermilya poisoning case, and so nearly parallel to it in method and motive the arrest of Mrs. John Quinn is today the chief topic of comment in Chicago and vicinity.

Mrs. Quinn is now incarcerated in the Hyde Park station accused of murdering her third husband, John Quinn who was found dead in bed at his home, 1105 South Michigan avenue with a bullet hole through his heart. Mrs. Quinn's second husband, Warren Thorpe, was shot dead while sitting in a chair at his home in Jackson, Michigan in 1901.

Her first husband, John McDonald, also died mysteriously at Jackson, Michigan, under circumstances indicating poison.

LOTTRIDGE LAID TO REST HERE

Funeral of West Salem Pioneer Is Held in La Crosse Today; Many Attend

The funeral of Leonard Lottridge, the pioneer, who died in West Salem Saturday morning, was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hope L. McEldowney, at West Salem this morning at nine o'clock. A large number of friends and relatives gathered to pay their last tribute to the memory of Mr. Lottridge.

Rev. Henry Faville of the First Congregational church of La Crosse officiated at the services which were held in West Salem this morning.

The pall bearers were Oliver Gullikson, F. B. Coburn, W. R. Dudley, W. A. Bradley, W. A. Houghton and E. Stevens.

The body was brought to La Crosse on the C. M. & St. P. railroad at noon today and burial was made in Oak Grove cemetery. No services were held here.

RISKS LIFE FOR ROLL OF BILLS

Woman Rushes Into Fire to Save Bills in Mattress; Part of Home Is Saved

Rushing into her home, then wrapped in flames, Mrs. F. Yandt, was apparently lost Saturday afternoon, but a moment later emerged from the fire and smoke with a small pile of bills tightly clutched in her hand.

"I've got it all," she said as she finished counting the $200 and congratulated herself upon her luck despite the fact that her home, at South Nineteenth street, was being destroyed. The money had been in a mattress for safe keeping.

However the firemen from Nos. 1 and 3 got the fire under control before the entire house was beyond hope and the total loss amounted to but $250. The fire was caused by an overheated chimney and started in a clothes closet under the stairs.

KAISER BACKS RIVAL TO PANAMA CANAL

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—That the kaiser has lent his approval to the plan for a trans-isthmian waterway backed by German capital, in rivalry with the Panama canal, is reported here today. Much excitement has been caused by the story, since it hints at a claim by the Fatherland for recognition of its right to a foothold in the new world. It is presumed that the Nicaraguan route is the one contemplated.

AVIATOR MAKES SPEED

RHEIMS, France, Nov. 13.—Aviator Weymann, flying a Nieuport aeroplane, completed the round trip between here and Amiens today at an average speed of 73 miles an hour. The total distance is 190 miles. It is considered certain that he will take the speed prize offered for the flight. Weymann carried two passengers and 660 pounds of additional weight to prove the carrying capacity of his aeroplane. The test was made under government auspices.

47 ARE DOOMED TO DIE IN SEA

Schooner Washington Storm Wrecked on Oregon Coast; Vessel Is Breaking Up

LIFE SAVERS ARE HELPLESS

Twenty-five Passengers and Twenty Seamen on Board; Two Are Drowned

ASTORIA, Ore., Nov. 13.—With two members of the crew already overboard to their death, forty-seven persons on the shipwrecked steel schooner Washington, are facing death off Cape Disappointment today.

In a howling northwest gale the government life-savers from Astoria have been working unsuccessfully nine hours trying to get a life line to the steamer.

At ten o'clock this morning, with the life savers desperately renewing their efforts to effect a rescue, the boat started to break up.

Of the forty-seven persons aboard, twenty-five are passengers and twenty-two seamen.

The vessel was enroute from Portland to San Francisco when she ran into a gale last night. For an hour she was buffeted about at the mercy of the wind before she was driven inside the breakers off Cape Disappointment, and ran upon the bar outside the mouth of the Columbia river.

Wireless Flashes Signal

The Washington's wireless operator flashed a distress signal to Astoria and Portland before his apparatus was put out of commission by the gale. The life savers here immediately rushed to the scene.

Fearing the vessel would break up, the life-savers attempted to shoot a life line across the vessel, but each attempt failed. Two members of the crew were washed overboard while attempting to reach the life line.

Schooner's Crew Drowns

PORT TERRY, Plum Island, Long Island Sound, Nov. 13.—The schooner Edith E. Dennis of New Bedford, Mass., bound for Greenport, L. I., with coal, sank about nine o'clock last night in Plum Gut. Two sailors comprising the crew and the captain's wife, were drowned. The captain was washed ashore on a log and picked up by soldiers at the fort. He is insane today from his terrible experience, and cannot tell his own name.

BAD FIRE IS STOPPED

EAU CLAIRE FIREMEN SAVE TOWN OF ALTOONA FROM DESTRUCTION; $30,000 LOSS

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Nov. 13.—Fire which entirely destroyed Botsford Brothers' general store and stock at Altoona, Wis., and the residence of Mrs. W. L. Botsford and the ice house of William Howard, fanned by a high wind, threatened the entire town in the destruction, but the arrival of a fire engine and firemen from Eau Claire stopped the spread of the flames. The loss is estimated at $30,000, with an insurance of about $5,000.

FALL FATAL TO M'GREGOR MAN

August Clemens Is Killed when He Slips From Ladder While Cutting Down Tree

M'GREGOR, Iowa, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—August Clemens, a resident of McGregor for several years, died at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon as the result of a twenty foot fall from a ladder while he was adjusting a rope around the limb of a tree which he was going to saw off. The accident occurred in his yard and Mr. Clemens sustained internal injuries which left him unconscious in which condition he was picked up. He never regained consciousness.

Mr. Clemens had the ladder on a board and he was putting the rope around the limb of the tree when the ladder slipped and he fell to the ground.

Mr. Clemens was a well known painter in McGregor. He leaves two sons to mourn his loss.

TRAINS COLLIDE IN FOG; FIFTEEN HURT

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Two heavily crowded elevated trains on the Fifth Avenue branch of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system, collided in a fog Saturday and fifteen passengers were injured, some seriously.

Because he could not see twenty feet ahead, due to the fog, the motorman of one train failed to see the danger signal and his train crashed into the rear of the one ahead.

Two cars were smashed and axes were used to chop away the debris, so that injured passengers might be taken out.

GOMPERS SAYS RANK AND FILE IS PROGRESSIVE

Great Labor Leader Speaks Before American Federation Convention at Atlanta, Ga.

SPIRIT OF REVOLT ABROAD

Says People Are More Progressive than Their Leaders; Calls Taft Message "Drivel"

URGES INDEPENDENT VOTE

Declares Voters Will No Longer Submit to a Rule of Evasions

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 13.—Denouncing as the foes of labor "subservient courts," "injunctions" and the McNamara "persecution" in Los Angeles, President Samuel Gompers this afternoon delivered his annual address before the thirty-first annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. To desert partisan politics and join independently in the fight for better working conditions was the remedy suggested.

Frank Morrison submitted his annual report, showing that the federation now has 1,756,000 members, the greatest since its organization.

"The spirit of revolt and change is abroad in the land," said Gompers. "Voters are now demanding better reason for support of a particular candidate than his nomination by the party or his endorsement by some official or unofficial boss. The people who form the rank and file of political parties are more progressive than their leaders. They will no longer submit to the rule of evasion and false pretenses found in platforms, presidential messages and public addresses. Millions of intelligent men of labor, having passed beyond the influence of campaign buncombe, have come to understand that the welfare of the people and promotion of the cause of labor are more important than any party candidacy or empty partisan success. The spirit of liberty cannot be stayed by kings, nor emperors, or even by presidents, nor by injunction and jail sentences."

"The people have had the sense and courage to strike off the shackles and to rebel against an automatic and boss owned judiciary."

Declaring that the recall, initiative and referendum are paramount issues certain of adoption, Gompers said: "This semi-deification of the judiciary, this sanctimonious cant about 'mob rule,' some of which was in Taft's message vetoing the constitution of Arizona, is more drivel."

The Gompers report was the main feature of the opening session, which was attended by delegates from every section of the country. There is every prospect that the convention will take some strong action in relation to the McNamara trial, the feeling among the delegates being intense.

LA FOLLETTE NEAR DEATH IN AUTO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Senator La Follette showed no ill effects on Sunday of the automobile accident of Saturday night. That he sustained only a few slight bruises is regarded as almost a miracle by persons who saw the accident.

The Wisconsin senator was on his way to the senate office, being in an auto driven by his son, Bobby. Young La Follette threw on high speed in rounding a corner and the machine shot forward and crashed into another auto which was leisurely making its way up the hill. Mr. La Follette's machine was only slightly damaged, but the other auto was put out of commission, with broken axle and twisted mud guards.

Senator La Follette was thrown from his seat to the floor of his car. Mr. La Follette purchased his automobile only a few weeks ago.

POTASH WAR SETTLED

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The long drawn out potash controversy between American and German interests was settled here today, the German syndicate, the non-syndicate interests, and the American dealers ratifying the tentative settlement previously reached and cancelling the contracts between the Americans and non-syndicate firms which started the trouble.

CASE AGAINST YOLTON GROWS BY NEW PROOF

"Keepers" Talk to Detriment of "the Dude," but No Corroboration Against McGrath

AWAIT FORMAL COMPLAINT

Col. G. M. Woodward Says Scott Statement Does Not Warrant Action by Police Board

STARTED IN FACTIONAL ROW

Statement as to Cause of Webber's Probe Indicates "Family Row" Causes the Inquiry

"Nothing in the statement calls upon me or the commission to take action."

This statement was made to The Tribune today by Col. G. M. Woodward, president of the fire and police commission.

The statement referred to was that made by Frank Scott to Mayor Deninger and District Attorney James Thompson, in which Scott declared that he had paid a total of $180 to Yolton and McGrath for "protection."

It is the position of Colonel Woodward that action will be taken by the commission only upon the formal presentation of charges against the accused officers.

Hearing Must Be Open

All question of whether, should the commission order a hearing, it will be open to the public is removed by the discovery today that an amendment passed by the legislature last winter provides that all hearings before the board shall be open, and giving the commission the same powers to subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance as are enjoyed by the courts.

Attorneys Act Quickly

Attorney Wm. F. Wolfe, representing Yolton and McGrath, has secured statements from some of the keepers regarding the charges. While the exact nature of these statements is not known, it is presumed they consist of denials of the charges made against the men.

Keepers "Cough Up"

It was learned today that some of the owners of sporting places have "talked" to the police. Just what they have divulged is not known, but that the trend of it has been to strengthen the case against Detective Frank Yolton is the most important assertion regarding the developments of the past thirty-six hours.

On the other hand, it was stated by persons in the confidence of the police department that nothing has been secured in the way of evidence corroborating the charge that Detective Joseph McGrath was implicated in the taking of money for "protection."

The revelations of Sunday and Monday are regarded as but the beginning of a general "coughing up" of evidence regarding grafting in the tenderloin. It is said that, realizing that a general "clean up" of the police department is at hand, persons having paid for "protection" are prepared to get front seats in the "experience meeting" and make a clean breast of the existing conditions.

Correspondence Important

Further examination of the correspondence between various people interested in the "Red Light" district, including a number of letters and telegrams signed by Detective Yolton, discloses many connecting links that may serve to connect the various graft stories in a chain of evidence.

Want Grand Jury

Grand Jury talk is strong today among people conversant with the facts. It is asserted with conviction that the surface has been but scratched so far, and that a serious attempt to get to the bottom of things, such as a grand jury would make, would reveal a situation at once grave and ludicrous.

How it All Started

It was stated today by a member of the force that the investigation was begun owing to a falling out within the department. The story is that Patrolman "Tim" Mahoney, a friend of Yolton and McGrath, was reported by Capt. Larry Dugan as having been intoxicated on duty, and that Chief Webber told Mahoney that he had better resign, as he had already caused so much trouble that he was sure to be fired.

Mahoney asked the advice of Yolton and McGrath, and was told not to resign, but to stand pat. In the meantime they watched Officer Emil Jahnke, said to be a favorite with Chief Webber and Captain Dugan, with the result that later they preferred charges against Jahnke of conduct unbecoming an officer. This was said to have been by way of retaliation, but Chief Webber today said that he had himself preferred the charges against Pahnke. "The charges against the eight men, not including Yolton and McGrath, are (Continued on Page 6, Column 4)

DEATH STALKING M'NAMARA JURY

Peculiar Chain of Fatalities Stirs the Superstitious in the Great Labor Trial

THREE MEN ARE TO REMAIN Both Defense and State Are Anxious to Name Jury Before Next Month

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 13.—Because Judge Bordwell was compelled to hear developments in a big civil case involving the ownership of harbor lands, no sessions in the McNamara murder trial held Saturday. Counsel for both sides spent the day going over the records of veniremen still eligible for service. It is now considered certain that Judge Bordwell will finally excuse Alexander Gassling passed for cause by both sides yesterday because he insists he cannot convict on circumstantial evidence, where the death penalty is involved. This will leave three permanent and tentative jurors in the box. Despite this, Attorney Darrow and District Attorney Fredricks unite in declaring the jury will be completed by the middle of next month at the latest.

The certain fatality which seems to be following the trial and which is preventing the securing of a jury is causing the superstitious much concern. After Juror Mendenhall had been accepted and sworn, his mother was stricken with paralysis, forcing the court to discharge him. Then Juror Clark, who was eminently satisfactory to all concerned, notified the court that his condition was such that he could not serve. He was suffering from heart disease and the court finally had to discharge him.

Finally reports reached here that Henry Sexton, brother of J. E. Sexton, one of the three latest tentative jurors, who has a chance of remaining in the box, is dying of consumption in Arizona.

The latest developments are directing attention to the peculiar chain of fatalities that has seemingly followed this case since the arrests of the McNamaras in Indianapolis.

Detective Burns' men were closely on the track of Kaplin, alleged accomplice of the McNamaras, when he was reported to have died in Mexico. Now sickness and death seems to be stalking the veniremen called upon to pass on the case.

$422,000 "PLANT" TOLD AT DEATH

New York Bank Wrecker's Wife Reveals Death-bed Secret to the Authorities

LOOK FOR THE MISSING LOOT Get Rich Quick Operator, Who Died in Prison, Used Methods of "High Finance"

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The $422,000 loot "planted" by David Rothschild, bank wrecker, and get rich quick operator, before he began serving a term in Sing Sing prison, may be found if an investigation begun today by District Attorney Whitman bears fruit. Rothschild died in prison, but, according to Mrs. Batten, his former wife, he divulged the secret to her on his death-bed.

The woman married Batten two years ago. They have been living in St. Louis for two months. She declares that a "mental haze" prevented her from disclosing the secret before this. According to her story, Rothschild told her how he had deposited a package containing $237,000 in the Corn Exchange Safety Deposit vaults, and one containing $185,000 in a safety deposit vault in Jersey City. Rothschild, according to the woman, used the name of David Levy in one instance and of Louis Levy in the other.

When the Federal bank failed in 1904, Rothschild removed $270,000 from its vaults. Today it became known that the amount he secured was $422,000. Officers failed while the banker was on trial to make him divulge his secret. He was convicted, sent to Sing Sing and died while serving his sentence.

Rothschild was not alone in his operations. Those implicated included Armitage Matthews, one time secretary of the republican county committee who committed suicide on the day he was to have been brought to trial, and John W. Wooten, a lawyer, who was pardoned by Governor Hughes after having served about three years of his term.

Rothschild's methods were of the "high finance" order. He operated get-rich-quick concerns, looted estates, formed the Federal bank and robbed the depositors.

District Attorney Whitman will not divulge the nature of his investigation. He said today, however, that it would be thorough and he would do everything possible to locate the missing loot so that it could be turned over to the depositors of the wrecked bank.

Informers in Ill.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 11.—Following her amazing statement in which she told District Attorney Whitman of New York City the hiding place where David Rothschild, her former husband, is supposed to have cached the $422,000 he looted from New York banks, Mrs. Eugene Batten is today reported seriously ill.

Owing to the rain and darkness, the game had to be abandoned before the final ending but the score was 6 to 5 in the latter's favor at the end of the third quarter. The teams seemed to be well matched in strength and another game is expected soon to decide the championship.

Mr. Ed. Yankes was treated to a very pleasant surprise Tuesday evening, when about forty of his friends marched in and took possession of his home, the occasion being his birthday. A bounteous spread was taken along by the guests and the evening thoroughly enjoyed by all.

CHIEF OF POLICE DEATH A MYSTERY

Girl and Mother Held Pending Investigation of Shooting of Washington Officer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Mystery regarding the death of Chief of Police William J. Dulaney and captain of company H, Tenth regiment, N. G. P., who was shot and fatally wounded in the presence of Miss Ada Lennox, continues to deepen as the investigation progresses. The alleged lack of motive for suicide, a quarrel admitted to have occurred between the married man and the girl, her more or less conflicting stories and the nature of the wound and lack of powder marks, together with more or less mystifying features, is causing a sweeping investigation of both murder and suicide theories to be made.

Relatives and authorities are divided in their views, the former claiming murder, the latter suicide. The girl and her mother, Mrs. Rose Lennox, are in jail here awaiting the coroner's investigation Tuesday. Both refuse to talk.

One motive for suicide is that Dulaney's domestic relations were not the most serene. He recently made information against his wife's brother, Joseph Carter, 18, charging him with two other well-known young men, with complicity in nineteen robberies and this is said to have caused differences between husband and wife.

Dulaney's funeral will be held on Monday and he will be given a military burial. The coroner's inquest will be held Tuesday.

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath—thus taking its users into their full confidence, and warranting physicians in prescribing it in their worst cases, which they do very largely.

It is foolish as well as dangerous to take medicine the composition of which you know nothing. Therefore, don't let a dishonest druggist prevail on you to accept a secret nostrum for this professionally approved medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. Every ingredient in its make-up has the strongest indorsement of the leading medical men of all the several schools of practice. Send postal card request for free Booklet of same.

Every woman may write fully and confidentially to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and may be sure that her case will receive careful, conscientious, confidential consideration, and that the best medical advice in the world will be given to her, absolutely free.

THE WHITE SIDE OF STANFORD WHITE

According to Augustus Saint Gaudens, Stanford White was first attracted to him some thirty-five years ago by hearing the sculptor "bawl" selections from Beethoven and Mozart. White was working for Richardson at the time, and Saint Gaudens for La Farge. Their friendship lasted to the end. In the "Architectural Record" have been running a series of letters, in which the vivacity, energy, and artistic devotion of the architect are vividly portrayed. His style may be surmised from the following remarks about the art ideas of a client:

"Some people are such damned asses that they always think of death as a gloomy performance instead of a resurrection. Then X— and Madame are blue-nosed Presbyterians. I would see them all to the devil, though. I think, however, to break their fall, I should write them a bonhomie note about looking at death as a resurrection, etc., etc."

The following is about a wax head by Raphael:

"When you have made up your mind that a thing should look one way, and it looks another, you are very apt to be disappointed. For a minute I gasped for breath; the next, like a vessel changing tack, my sails shook in the wind and I said: 'Is this thing right?' And then the utter loveliness of it shook all other feelings aside. Your reason will immediately tell you it is wrong. But when you go and look at it, and wish you may die or something, you no more question its being 'high art' than you think of a yellow harvest moon being nothing but a mass of extinct volcanoes. . . . Never was so sweet a face made in this world; and I am sure, if they are all as lovely in the next, it must be heaven indeed."

The technical and intellectual influence of White upon Saint Gaudens is illustrated in these letters, and will be of more importance to posterity than the more personal bits; but to show that side would require some space:

"My hair alternately stood up and flattened down in front of the Greek and Assyrian bas-reliefs. . . . Do you know that at Windsor there are upward of one hundred drawings of Holbein's like those I copied at Basel? Dye understand, one hundred!—some of them even more splendid—and forty oil paintings. And to think I did not go there! Oh! Oh! Sorrow the day that I was born."

We do not care to pick out for republication just what Saint Gaudens said when his friend was shot, but it was the truth. What White did for American art, not only with his own hand, but through the inspiration which his overflowing nature lent to others, will form one day a large and honorable chapter in the history of our country—Colliers.

BUT OUR COURT HAS NO JURISDICTION

"Sweeping aside all technical refinements urged by appellants," says the Wisconsin supreme court (126 Wis. 85.) "such as the absence of any express understanding with legislative candidates that they would favor the contributor, or of any showing whether he expected they would use his contributions for legitimate campaign expenses or otherwise, we cannot doubt that the charge of using money in large quantities in the hope and expectation of thereby promoting his own candidacy for the United States senate is a most degrading one to make against any public man. Such an act is an assault upon a most essential principle of popular government, which, if to be successful, must assume the free selection of officials on grounds of fitness. It pretends a superiority before the law of the corrupt man of wealth over the man of ability and integrity who, either from poverty or principle, is debarred from similar means of securing support. It evinces a willingness to corrupt the legislature and dangerous looseness of morals. Gloomy, indeed, would be the prospect if we must believe that such conduct would not evoke general condemnation and disgust."

However, Isaac Stephenson is a beneficiary of the fact that the United States senate is the sole judge of the qualifications of its own members.

Brotherhood

We're brothers, you and I and they; we all Responded to the father's gracious call.

Awakened 'neath the vivifying flame He breathed upon us when he called our name.

Accepting from his hand the gift of life Plunged straightway into turmoil and strife

That busy and amuse us; do our best To govern; all we reach and trust the rest

To providence; to do as we command. We boast the pleasures of a better land

But cling to this with all our puny strength, As tho' life's worth consisted of its length;

And often ask with pessimistic smile And condescending air, "Is life worth while?"

The while we cling to it, aye, cling and cling, As tho' it were the sole existing thing

In all the universe of any worth. Go to! Ye make me weary, sons of earth.

—Cora M. W. Greenleaf.

Sometimes Counted Out

A Cincinnati man who visited New York not long ago was resented to "Big Tim" Sullivan of Tammany fame. It happened that in the course of the conversation that ensued between the westerner and Big Tim the former quoted the old saying, "Truth crusted to earth will rise again."

Big Tim smiled in a superior way. "I suppose that's right, my friend," he said, "but sometimes not before the referee has counted ten." Lippincott's Magazine.

The Small Stockholder

"When I was a barefoot lad," said Dustin Stax, "I had to spend a good deal of time minding the stock on father's farm. I'll never forget the day when father told me to take a rope and hold a couple of bull calves."

"What did they do?" "They scorched my hands with the rope and then turned around and stepped on me." "Unlucky disposition?" "No. Wonderful instinct. They recognized me at a glance as a small stockholder."—Washington Star.

Restored Courage

The southern lover was impetuous, says the author of a recent book of reminiscences of eastern Virginia entitled "Memory Day," and the maiden was timid and unused to passionate proposals of marriage.

"Oh, don't!" she interrupted in a whisper. "You frighten me dreadfully!"

Overcome by contrition, the young man humbly apologized for his fervor, and a painful silence ensued. The girl broke it at last.

"Robert," she began, with a hopeful smile, "I—don't—I think I—shall be so frightened this time."—Youth's Companion.

Her Alibi

Much to the curious little girl's disgust, her elder sister and her girl friends had quickly closed the door of the back parlor, before she could wedge her small self in among them.

She waited uneasily for a little while, then she knocked. No response. She knocked again. Still no attention. Her curiosity could be controlled no longer. "Dodo!" she called in staccato tones, as she knocked once again. "Tain't me! It's mamma!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

The Beloved Slept

"So you actually went to church last Sunday?"

"I really did."

"Excuse me if I seem skeptical. What was the text?"

"Aha, I have you there. The text was, 'He loveth His beloved Sleep.'"

"Good work. And who were there?"

"All the beloved, it seemed to me."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Too Risky

"From the implements about him I think this mummy must have been an Egyptian plumber."

"It would be interesting to bring him to life."

"But too risky. Who's going to pay him for his time?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Inexpensive

"I am thinking of going to Europe on a vacation."

"You are! I didn't know you had that much money."

"I haven't, but you see, it doesn't cost anything to think of going."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Only a Local Engagement

"So you think we're going to get mixed up in this foreign war, eh?"

"Who said I did?"

"Jones."

"Jones! Well, say, what's the use of wasting a choice bit of humor on such a lunkhead? What I remarked was that in another few weeks we'd be slaughtering turks."—Boston Transcript.

The PRODIGAL JUDGE

CHAPTER XXIX.

The Judge Finds Allies.

They were interrupted by the opening of the door, and big Steve admitted Carrington and the two men of whom the sheriff had spoken.

"A shocking condition of affairs," Mr. Carrington said the judge by way of greeting.

"Yes," said Carrington shortly.

"You left these parts some time ago, I believe," continued the judge.

"The day before Norton was shot. I had started home for Kentucky. I heard of his death when I reached Randolph on the second bluff," explained Carrington, from whose cheeks the weather-beaten bloom had faded. He rested his hand on the edge of the desk and turned to the men who had followed him into the room. "This is the gentleman you wish to see," he said, and stepped to one of the windows; it overlooked the terraces where he had said good-by to Betty scarcely a week before.

The two men had paused by the door. They now advanced. One was gaunt and haggard, his face disfigured by a great red scar; the other was a shock-headed individual who moved with a shambling gait. Both carried rifles and both were dressed in coarse homespun.

"Morning, sir," said the man with the scar. "Yancy's my name, and this gentleman 'loves' he'd rather be known now as Mr. Cavendish."

The judge started to his feet. "Bob Yancy?" he cried.

"Yes, sir, that's me." The judge passed nimbly around the desk and shook the Scratch Hiller warmly by the hand. "Where's my nevy, sir—what's all this about him and Miss Betty?" Yancy's soft drawl was suddenly eager.

"Please God we'll recover him soon!" said the judge.

By the window Carrington moved impatiently. No harm could come to the boy, but Betty—a shudder went through him.

"They've stolen him," Yancy spoke with conviction. "I reckon they've started back to North Carolina with him—only that don't explain what's come of Miss Betty, does it?" and he dropped rather helplessly into a chair.

"Bob are just getting off a sick bed. He's been powerful poorly in consequence of having his head laid open and then being thrown into the Elk River, where I fished him out," explained Cavendish, who still continued to regard the judge with unmixt astonishment, first cocking his shaggy head on one side and then on the other, his bleached eyes narrowed to a slit. Now and then he favored the austere Mahaffy with a fleeting glance. He seemed intuitively to understand the comradeship of their degradation.

"Mr. Cavendish fetched me here on his raft. We tied up to the sho' this morning. It was there we met Mr. Carrington. I'd known him slightly back yonder in North Carolina," continued Yancy. "He said I'd find Hannibal with you. I was counting a heap on seeing my nevy."

Carrington, no longer able to control himself, swung about on his heel.

"What's been done?" he asked, with fierce expression. "What's going to be done? Don't you know that every second is precious?"

"I am about to, conclude my investigation, sir," said the judge with dignity.

Carrington stepped to the door. After all, what was there to expect of these men? Whatever their interest, it was plainly centered in the boy. He passed out into the hall.

As the door closed on him, the judge turned again to the Scratch Hiller.

"Mr. Yancy, Mr. Mahaffy and I hold your nephew in the tenderest regard, he has been our constant companion ever since you were lost to him. In this crisis you may rely upon us; we are committed to his help."

"What's been done?" he asked, with fierce expression. "What's going to be done? Don't you know that every second is precious?"

WILDCAT SEEN ON FRENCH ISLAND

Animal Springs at John Wolford; Hunt Is Planned to Destroy the Animal

Interested by balls of green fire that appeared to be shining at him from the air, Joe Wolford, 1616 Vine street, started toward them, thinking them to be the eyes of a big owl. He was hunting near Rice Lake on French Island, and had lost his way. He was taken aback to find that the "owl" was a very large and ferocious wild cat crouching in the fork of a tree branch.

As Wolford approached the wildcat emitted a yowl, and spitting like an ordinary tom, sprang at the hunter. Wolford was out of ammunition, and under the circumstances he deemed discretion the better part of valor. He took to his heels, and failed to see what became of the wildcat after his spring.

The story of the presence of the wildcat on French Island is vouched for by two other hunters who claim to have seen him in about the same location during the last week. His haunt seems to be on Red Oak Ridge near the north end of the island.

The inhabitants of the island are thinking seriously of starting a general hunt with rifles and dogs after the cat. They attribute several recent losses of chickens and ducks to his rapacious appetite.

Another hunter story which comes from the island relates to a wonderful duck hunt indulged in by Frank Brown, 227 Mill street, a Milwaukee switchman. Brown killed a big black mallard drake by hitting it over the head with a sack full of decoys.

Brown was placing decoys in the water of Rice lake at about dusk a day or two ago, when a big black mallard swept gently down into the water beside his boat, "talking" to himself the while. He evidently failed to notice Brown, who was proceeding very quietly about his work, in the gathering dark. Brown took a look at the bird, and then heaved up his half empty sack of wooden decoys and caught him with it. He got the duck.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUBS HOLD TWO DEBATES

"Resolved, that Party Allegiance Is Preferable to Independent Action in Politics," was the subject of debate before the Wendell-Phillips Debating society Friday. The debate was entirely informal. The jury, consisting of Hansen, Marcon and Withrow, voted in favor of the affirmative by a vote of 2 to 1.

Beside the debate, a very entertaining program was held. Orlando Hansen gave "The Maid of Bergen." Milton Figgie spoke on current events. Fred Reimers read "Schneider's Ride." Guy Jolivet recited "How Pa Saved the Bacon." John Stepih was critic of the evening. Cyrus Mitchell, Kemp Englema, Arthur Nelson and Harold Jacobs were admitted to the society.

"Resolved, that Wisconsin Adopt County Option for the Liquor Traffic," was the debate fought out by the L. D. D. S. at the high school Friday night. The jury, consisting of W. Gates, G. Hallik and A. Renner, voted 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative.

Russell Webb and G. Merman upheld the affirmative, and A. Tuteur and D. Lewis upheld the negative. Julian Bloom spoke on current topics and Knute Houck gave a reading.

EASILY BREAKS A SEVERE COLD

In just a few hours all misery from a bad cold or the Grippe will be overcome.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after effects, as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

CARNEGIE AHEAD IN CHARITY RACE

New Gift of $25,000,000 Makes Total Benefactions Up to $220,800,000; John D's Move

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—It's John D.'s ante.

The announcement of Andrew Carnegie's new gift of $25,000,000 to the Carnegie corporation, all for sweet charity, brings the iron master's total benefactions up to the snug little fortune of $220,800,000.

Rockefeller's total handouts to charity, exclusive of course, of the occasional dime he gives to a worthy caddie, amounts to only $174,711,000.

Thus, as can be readily seen, the little Scotch steel merchant, whom Uncle Sam is chasing with a subpoena, just at present, is $46,089,000 ahead of the oil king, also subpoenaed, in the charity race.

The Carnegie corporation is now formed under a New York state charter to "promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States."

Carnegie gave out a statement Friday night telling about the Carnegie corporation. Possessed of $25,000,000 it is to continue his philanthropies long after he has gone, promoting technical schools, institution of high learning, hero funds, libraries and "useful" publications.

The $25,000,000 are represented by that value in first mortgage gold bonds of the United States Steel corporation, which Mr. Wickersham would have broken up.

There are only two routes to Bohemia; one is via the path of "Dreams" and the other down the stream of "Don't Care." You can always tell a feminine Bohemian by the way in which her clothes don't fit and her hat insults her hair.

To Keep Oilcloth Like New

Oilcloth should not be swept with a straw broom or scrubbed with a stiff brush. Instead, sweep with a soft hair brush and wipe off with lukewarm water in which has been dissolved a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and rinse with clear, warm water. Where oilcloth is losing its shiny surface, wash as above, then dissolve a little ordinary glue in a pint of hot water. At night go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in glue water. Choose a dry day and by morning the glue will be hard; it will give a fine gloss and make the oilcloth wear much longer.

SICK HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, TORID LIVER, CONSTIPATION — CASCARETS

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous matter, instead of being thrown out, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, awful throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the poison move on and out and purifying the blood. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches, need not suffer, for they can be quickly cured by Cascarets. One taken tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box means a clear head and perfect health for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too. Children gladly take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

WAUKON, IOWA.

Mrs. Margaret Davids will close her house here for the winter and go to her brother in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Howard were married ten years ago last Monday. Their friends of the Baptist church went to their house with well filled baskets and surprised them. The lights in the parlor were hastily draped with lace curtains and the couple whose ten years of happy exemplary life is a good example to follow, were seated under the canopy to receive a huge basket full of gifts. The flower girls who acted as such ten years ago held the ribbons again while the speeches were being made. They were Misses Caryl Crawford and Cecile Dayton, a little larger now than then.

The pictures shown by Dr. Payne at the school house are fine and large crowds are enjoying them and helping to make such pictures possible for the school in the future.

D., to accept a position on the staff of that paper at an advance of salary. She was secretary of the Browning club and conductress of the O. E. S. Her father goes with her to remain for the winter.

The New Century club has instituted a new deal for this year, putting one day every six weeks into the hands of a committee of three, said committee to do as they please with the day, have a lesson, social day, picnic, entertainment or guest day. The first one last Saturday fell, alphabetically, to Mrs. Roy Bearce, Mrs. J. E. Beeman and Mrs. D. F. Dougherty. It was so near Halloween that the decorations and program were along that line. The program began with a pumpkin seed guessing contest. The prize which went to Mrs. R. B. May was a pumpkin pie. Then followed a peanut chew, a charm hunt (the charm was a ring), cutting contest and a fortune telling with witch and broom. The table for supper was a work of art, decorated in orange and black, Jack o'lanterns of pumpkins and oranges, bats, cats and witches. A black cat place card was tied with ribbon to a walnut shell hidden in the pretty fern and fruit centerpiece. In each shell was a ryming description of the one who drew it. The place cards were the work of the club artist, Mrs. A. L. Grimm and the rhymes were by Miss Lewis. Robert May, the new and only club baby, visited the club for a few minutes. He seemed to enjoy it as much as the club did.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will offset the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies. But Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients, which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out, and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair and don't resort to old time hair dyes. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

BEATTIE APPEAL DENIED BY COURT

Governor of Virginia Now Only Hope of the Young Wife Slayer

LITTLE CHANCE OF REPRIEVE

Scion of Aristocracy Will Pay Penalty with Life on November 24

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 13.—Only Governor Mann now stands between Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., and the electric chair, the supreme court of appeals having today refused to grant an appeal to the young wife slayer on a writ of error.

Beattie's counsel had little hope of success before the supreme court and now all the influence of the defense will be brought to bear on the governor to induce him to grant a commutation of the sentence or at least to issue a reprieve that will postpone the date of execution, which is now set for November 24.

The supreme court in its decision today merely refused the petition without comment. The decision reads:

"The judgment of the circuit court of Chesterfield being plainly right, a writ of error is refused."

The approval of the lower court in such firm fashion by the supreme court in the decision handed down by Judge Keith, argued against the interference by the governor, and it was the general belief here that Beattie would die in the chair one week from next Friday.

Henry Beattie, now 27 years of age, murdered his wife, Louise Owen Beattie, 21, after taking her for an automobile ride on the Midlothian Pike on the night of July 17. He was arrested on July 20. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence and maintained his innocence. He has never yet shown any signs of weakening. His father, who has sold out his business here, has failed in health rapidly since his son's conviction and the decision today was a severe shock to him. The prisoner is now confined in "Death row" at the state penitentiary.

TOLL OF LIVES IS TAKEN BY STORM

NEAR JANESVILLE

family of four persons succumbed at Hanover, Wis., when the family home was demolished.

Two Frozen to Death

At least two are known to have been frozen to death in the icy breath of winter that spread over Minnesota and North Dakota. The body of John W. Dudley of Grand Forks, N. D., was found on the prairie outside of that city. Joseph A. Ruppe, treasurer of Rush City, Minn., was frozen to death while hunting on Rush lake. The wind and waves swamped his boat and Ruppe was frozen to death in an attempt to swim ashore in the icy water.

When the wind died down in Chicago today, it brought to an end the worst storm in the recent history of great lake navigation and released several hundred weary government life savers from a thirty-six hour vigil. Half a score of lake vessels were driven in the harbor, their cables snapped in twain by the united power of wind and waves. Several of these craft were driven clear across Lake Michigan, and when their crews were rescued they told stories of a fearful battle against a bitter wind that lashed the waves over their decks and drove vessels irresistibly before it.

Chicago Poor Suffering

In Chicago city alone, three persons perished in the cold wave, and the charity hospitals today were full of patients with frost bitten hands and feet. The known dead today in this city were: William Johnson, 40; Thorwald Tonneson, 44; Harry Green, 61.

Near zero weather caused intense suffering among the poor of the city. The county authorities today broke all precedents and began distribution of coal and supplies to the needy—a step never taken heretofore until the first of December.

Reports from Virginia, Ill., say that the damage to property in that section will total more than $200,000. Several hundred people are homeless.

In one building, spared by the tornado, thirty-five persons are living. All of them lost their homes.

The indications are that as a direct result of the sudden cold wave—unprecedented in the history of the middle west—lake shipping will be tied up for weeks.

Along the Canadian border the cold weather has congested wheat shipping. The elevators are jammed with grain which the railroads cannot handle rapidly enough, and in several cities the grain is being stored on the ground.

Two Killed in Michigan
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 13.—The lower peninsula of Michigan is today recovering from one of the worst early winter storms and tornadoes of its history. The property damage runs into millions and at least two persons were killed and nearly a score injured. Wires are down in many places and trains on nearly all roads are running behind their schedules.

Through the central part of the lower peninsula a tornado swept a path about one mile wide, razing buildings and playing havoc with everything in its way. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corwin of Owosso were killed.

FIFTH PANEL IS NEARLY USED UP

Only Seven Men Left from which to Choose Jury for McNamara Trial

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 13.—With only seven veniremen of the fifth panel remaining available, the attorneys in the McNamara murder trial today resumed the work of trying to obtain twelve impartial jurors. When court reconvened District Attorney Fredricks resumed interrogation of Alexander Gribling, passed for cause Friday but whom the state now wants to eliminate because he has a strong prejudice against General Otis and the Times.

Juror Sexton asked the court to be excused because his brother is dying and Judge Bordwell took the matter under advisement. If the condition of Sexton's brother becomes worse he will probably be excused.

There are only three permanent jurors in the box, Lisk, Green and Bain. Three tentative jurors have been passed by both sides, of whom Sexton is the only one who is certain to remain, as the state must challenge Clarke McLain, a Pasadena banker, who holds to the gas theory and who said under examination he considers General Otis a handicap to the city. The defense will eliminate Major Brewster Kenyon, a millionaire oil man, because it is discovered he is a great admirer of Detective Burns.

PERITONITIS IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Caroline Steppe, the 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Steppe, 1530 Jackson street, died at 7:50 o'clock last night of peritonitis after an illness of but two days.

She was born in La Crosse and has lived here all her life.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning from the residence at 8:30 and from the Holy Trinity church at 9 o'clock, with Rev. Father Riester officiating. Burial will take place in the Catholic cemetery. Fessler & Dahl have charge of the funeral arrangements.

COUNTY BOARD TO MEET TOMORROW

Previous to the opening of the November term of the county board at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning the committee on roads and bridges will hold a meeting and the report of the county highway commissioners on the costs of improving the McGilvray bridge and the road leading to it will be submitted. This report will be brought before the supervisors and final action on the McGilvray bridge will be taken.

CLERK OF COURT REPORT ISSUED

According to the report of Russell D. Smith, clerk of court, which was issued today the disbursements for the year ending November 1, equal $6,694.17 and the receipts equal $799.99. The disbursements for witness fees is $857.18 and the disbursements for petit jurors, court officers, books, and attorney fees is $5,836.99.

ed as they lay asleep, the roof of their home falling and crushing them to death.

Interurban car traffic throughout the lower peninsula is still demoralized and it will be some time before communication can be re-established.

Cyclone in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 13.—Revised reports today from points in Indiana which were swept by a cyclone storm Saturday night and early Sunday indicate that the property loss is more than $600,000. The stone quarry district surrounding Bedford, reports the largest damage, many stone mills being entirely wrecked.

Storm Causes Wreck

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Nov. 13.—A blinding snowstorm making it impossible to see the tall lights of a Nickel Plate passenger train No. 455 today, wrecking the freight and killing C. M. CUT FLOWERS TO FEATURE SHOW

Exhibitions of Fancy Cut Chrysanthemums Will Include Best of Each Variety

One of the features of the Flower Show at the Masonic Temple Thursday afternoon and evening will be a great display of cut chrysanthemums of about 25 different fancy varieties, which will be laid in a group on a long table covered with moss. This group will consist of the choicest prize-winning blooms now in the greenhouses of the La Crosse Floral company, and will number the best of practically every variety grown in La Crosse.

The play of pot mums, the branch of chrysanthemum culture especially affected by Foreman Wagner of the company, will be one of the most complete of its kind ever shown in any city. The premier plant of this display will be a giant bush of Little Barbee single yellow mums, which has over 2500 flowers upon it.

There will also be six groups of potted mums by themselves, which are considered among the choicest and most rare varieties. These groups will consist of several plants each of the Red Minnesota, Garza, Catharine Livingston, Mrs. Wirth, Mrs. August Knab, and Quinola varieties.

The exhibition of single chrysanthemums, with stems from three to five feet long and the giant flowers averaging ten inches in breadth, of nearly every color in the rainbow, will no doubt prove to be one of the most interesting features of the show.

A partial list of the varieties that will be shown includes over two dozen names, and every color, ranging from pure silvery white to deepest red and old gold. In this exhibit will be seen such flowers as the famous Taft and Roosevelt varieties, the Golden Weddings, Golden H, and other well known flowers. One especially, known as the Old Gold chrysanthemum, is unique for the richness of its coloring. It is not so large as some of the other types, but it is remarkable for the faithfulness with which it reproduces the dull gloss and rich color of old gold. The flower seems to be almost made of metal itself.

of minor importance," said the chief. Making a shrewd guess at the facts, it is said, Chief Webster then began an investigation among resort keepers, seeking evidence of graft there on the part of the men whom he suspected of undermining the discipline and evading the authority of the department, with the result that statements were secured seeming to warrant still further inquiry.

B. A. Y. BAZAAR IS SUCCESSFUL

The bazaar given by the Rowena Circle, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, was a success in every way. The attendance in the afternoon and also in the evening at the dance was very good and the proceeds taken in at both the bazaar and dance were very satisfactory in every respect.

A number of articles were raffled off, and everything was sold off, so that nothing was left over. This is one of the annual occurrences of the Rowena Circle. The members were well pleased that it was a decided success.

Ronald Hass, a milkman living in the State Road Coulee, slipped and fell this morning and striking a piece of iron, cut a vein in his neck. The accident occurred at Sixteenth and Badger streets. VIRTUOUS BY DAY FIEND BY NIGHT

Young Business Man of Springfield, Mass., Is Held on Murder Charge

ARRESTED ON A SLIM CLUE

Said to Have Been Masked Burglar for Years; Accused of Shooting Girl

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 13.—Bertram C. Spencer, accused by the police of being a modern "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," was placed on trial here on the charge of murdering Miss Martha B. Blackstone, shot to death by a masked burglar on the night of March 31, 1910. More than 200 veniremen were summoned by Judge John C. Crosby.

The arrest of Spencer created a sensation in Massachusetts, where he was regarded as a sterling young business man.

The police allege that he was a respectable citizen by day and a fiend incarnate by night.

His arrest was the culmination of a two-year reign of terror by a lone bandit, who, masked, entered homes at night and held up the occupants with a revolver. On the night of March 31, Miss Blackstone was visiting the Dow family, on fashionable Round Hill. The women were sitting in the living room when a masked man confronted them with a revolver. One of them screamed and the bandit commenced firing. Miss Blackstone was killed and Miss Harriet Dow shot in the head, but recovered.

Private detectives finally arrested Spencer on the slenderest of clues.

A picture bearing the initials "B. C. S." had been found several weeks before the murder in the yard of a home where the masked burglar had been surprised climbing through a window. Enlargements of the photographs proved that they were likenesses of Spencer's sister and another relative. He was arrested and the search of his home, where he lived with his wife and baby, revealed thousands of dollars worth of jewelry which was later identified by various citizens of Springfield whose homes had been robbed.

After Spencer's arrest it was declared his mind was affected and he was sent to the state insane asylum at Bridgewater for observation.

DREAMS OF FORTUNE RUDELY SHATTERED

Four days of unavailing wandering through the streets of La Crosse in quest of a position has dispelled all thoughts of becoming "Hettie Greens" in the young minds of Ella Schoppe and Genevieve Wilson, 16 years, who arrived here from their homes at Watertown Tuesday with dreams of amassing fortunes.

In fact their castles had been demolished to such an extent that they applied to Poor Commissioner S. Burdick, and after telling their story asked aid in finding something to do that would bring them a living. Ella, as she left on the noon train for her home Saturday, her father having telegraphed the necessary funds, admitted that she was satisfied to return even if she couldn't take a fortune with her, and Genevieve, who will be sent to Watertown at the expense of La Crosse county, declared that she will be glad to get back to the dear old home.

GETS THREE MONTHS ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Charles Bard was sentenced to three months in the county jail by Judge John Brindley this morning on the charge of attacking Herman Schultz with a knife. An appeal was taken and bonds furnished.

Schultz asserts that he was attacked without any cause whatever. Bard when on the stand said the trouble was the result of Schultz trying to relieve him of his duties as escort to a lady friend which was objected to both by the lady and himself.

50 NEW MEMBERS FOR YEOMEN

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen will take in their next big class Tuesday evening, when over fifty will be taken into the organization. The initiatory work will not be put on, on this occasion, as there will be a musical program. Refreshments will be served, after which dancing will be indulged in as usual.

DIPHTHERIA HAS SPECIFIC CURE

Dr. Furstman Says Public Should Realize Antitoxin Kills Disease that Is Often Fatal

"The sooner that the public begins to use and realize the value of antitoxin as a cure for diphtheria the better it will be and the fewer deaths will result," said Dr. J. M. Furstman this morning.

"Contrary to the opinion of some," stated Dr. Furstman, "there are no after effects from the use of antitoxin. This is the only cure for diphtheria and when the people begin to use it the number of deaths from the disease will diminish greatly."

At the present time there are but six cases of diphtheria in La Crosse, this being a good record for this time of the year. One case of scarlet fever is the only other contagious disease on record.

That it is absolutely essential to use anti-toxin to cure diphtheria is the assertion of Dr. Furstman and that it is a good cure is a fact as it is recognized to be the world over.

WASHBURN SCHOOL DEFEATS FRANKLIN

A drop kick by Ross Harris from the thirty yard line, which sailed between the posts, decided the game between the Franklin and Washburn schools. The Franklin men outweighed their opponents but lacked speed. Clever work by Harris at quarter put the ball within striking distance during the latter part of the contest. Johnson and Currie also played in splendid style.

GARBAGE PILED HIGH IN STREETS

New York Faces Danger by Epidemic and Fire Through Drivers' Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—With streets piled high with putrid garbage and with the city's health menaced by pestilence, there was every indication today that Health Commissioner Lederle would be forced to assume control of the situation and clean up at any cost.

A great mass meeting of the 3,500 striking garbage drivers and helpers has been called for tonight in Cooper union, under the auspices of the socialist party. The police admit they fear trouble at the gathering.

Efforts to clean up the city by the use of professional strikebreakers so far have failed utterly. In the lower east side tenement district conditions are almost unbearable.

The danger of fire has been materially increased, for hoodlums are firing great masses of garbage as well as fires. Hundreds of firemen are patrolling the residential districts, extinguishing these street fires as rapidly as possible.

DOMESTIC MARKETS

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A reactionary tendency at the opening of the stock market carried all leading issues down half to one point. Rallies followed and at the end of the first fifteen minutes the market showed a strong tone, with most prices above Saturday's closing.

11 a. m.—The market for the most part was entirely professional. The trading was all in big orders, price movements reflecting heavy shifting of accounts.

Governments unchanged; other bonds strong.

Noon.—In the last half of the forenoon prices in the more active issues yielded and became so spasmodic as to create a belief that the former display of strength was artificial.

2 p. m.—After showing a recession of a point or more in the early afternoon the market showed a steadier tone and some specialties developed pronounced strength.

The stock market closed heavy.

Chicago Grain Letter
CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—All conditions combined to offer but little encouragement to wheat buyers today. The market opened a shade higher, but the support was exceedingly poor, and prices dropped a little.

There was a brief response to fairly heavy buying orders on the dip. As a rule, however, the volume of trading was light, the storms of the past few days delaying reports without which everybody seemed cautious.

On the theory that cold, dry weather would increase the marketing of corn, prices were a bit easier at the opening today, but the buying was

SQUAD USES CAR AS A GRIDIRON

Practice in Dining Car Fails to Bring Victory to River Falls Football Aggregation

ROBINSON'S LEG IS BROKEN

Leg Fractured in Line Plunge and Visitor's Nose Is Broken; Darkness Ends Battle

The River Falls Normal went down to defeat last Saturday afternoon, before the local normal by a score of 6 to 0. The upstate team perceiving that they would have no time for signal practice here, on account of the lateness of the train, cleared the dining car of the train and held signal practice in the diner, as a result they were already to begin the battle the moment they arrived in the city. The last half of the game was played in darkness so it was impossible for spectators to follow the ball. But in spite of this fact the rooters remained on the field and cheered their men on to victory. The game in itself was fast, snappy and clean and was played without a hitch except when time was taken out for injuries.

Ellis Robinson, the strongest lineman of the local institution, had the misfortune of breaking his leg just above the ankle. After the accident, the young man displayed an unusual amount of grit by climbing unaided into the automobile that bore him to the hospital. Fullback Masher of the visiting team, broke his nose during the latter part of the game.

River Falls kicked off to La Crosse who made first downs easily. The ball was carried back and forth across the field, each side, when in possession of the pigskin, plowed through their opponents with ease, but neither team was in position to make a touchdown.

The second quarter began with La Crosse in possession of the oval. The locals punted immediately. River Falls steadily advanced the ball to the 25 yard line where they attempted a dropkick but were not successful. When the visitors again got the ball, they punted to Byers who fumbled. River Falls recovered the ball on the 20 yard line. Time was taken out for Robinson who broke his ankle. The visitors advanced the ball to the 6 yard line where a fumble was recovered by the locals. Byers punted to the River Falls team who ran it back to the 7 yard line. The visitors could not advance the ball past the 5 yard line in three downs, so the ball was given to La Crosse who punted out of danger. Time for the first half was then called.

With the beginning of the second half, darkness came on rapidly. In the last part of the half, the ball was lost to the spectators and the players knew where it was only when it hit them. River Falls kicked off to La Crosse. A forward pass was intercepted and caught by the visitors on the 40 yard line. The locals in turn intercepted a forward pass made by the visitors, but fumbled it. When La Crosse finally got the ball, they carried it to the 20 yard line but fumbled it there. River Falls punted and made a touch-back. The locals punted out of danger and recovered the ball on a fumble on the 10 yard line. La Crosse was held for downs on the 5 yard line. La Crosse again got the ball on the 25 yard line and attempted a place kick but failed. When the locals again got the ball, they steadily advanced forward. Stevenson carried it within an inch of the goal and Byers put it over for a touchdown by a quarter back run. La Crosse kicked goal making the score 6 to 0. After this touchdown the ball was followed with great difficulty, and when Masher of River Falls fractured his nose the game was called with a minute and a half to play.

GEORGE HAGENAH DIES AT REEDSBURG

Word was received here today that George Hagenah, for several years a resident of La Crosse, died of complications in Reedsburg Wednesday, Nov. 8. He was 37 years of age.

Mr. Hagenah was a well known and popular man in La Crosse, he having held several positions while here. In 1903 he worked for the Holway Lumber company and when that concern left the city he was employed as a bookkeeper at the Colman Lumber company. In the spring of 1909 he was the republican candidate for tax commissioner.

He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Masons.

The funeral was held at Reedsburg yesterday afternoon.

MIRROR DRESS IS SOMETHING NEW

Patented Dress of Miss Gladys Vance Makes Hit with Majestic Audiences

CHILD COMEDIANS CLEVER

Nursery Act Is Success; One Act Comedy Has Clever Singers, Athletes Make Hit

"I don't care," sang Miss Gladys Vance at the Majestic yesterday, and the way she sang Eva Tanguay's famous song won her a home in the hearts of patrons of the theatre. Miss Vance is billed as "the girl with the mirror dress," and the mirror dress is covered entirely with little mirrors, which flash and glitter in the calcium lights and throw strange lights all over the theatre in a manner that is almost weird. The dress is a patented affair, and was invented by Miss Vance. Miss Vance did not need a unique costume, to make good, however. She has a pretty voice and is good to look at, and sings comic character songs in a pleasing way.

Lyndon and Dorman, comedians, have a nursery act that is a riot. They also introduce a wooden-shoe dancing specialty in Dutch costumes that is a riot. Both of the performers are good singers, and their act is new. The hobby horse ride made a big hit with the audiences yesterday.

"On the road," a comedy sketch by Roberts, Hayes and Roberts was designed merely to amuse. It serves its purpose very well, as the three performers are clever dancers and good singers to boot. Their singing and dancing of "That Mysterious Rag," especially was a feature of their sketch. They have a collection of new jokes and funny stunts that never failed to get a laugh.

La Velle and Grant, society athletes, are two young men of nearly perfect physical development, who go through a series of amazing and difficult acrobatic feats with ease and grace. They introduce several new stunts which were successful in obtaining applause.

Cavanna, the sailor slack wire comedian, is more than an ordinary wire walker. He is also a contortionist and acrobat of parts, and the way in which he mingled contortions with tumbling and wirewalking was unique. Like every other act on the bill the wire walking act was well received.

Two good comedy films are shown in the moving pictures.

has been upset this season there will be many backers behind the Badgers. Neither team played Saturday but they are putting in some strenuous work for the game that will settle the championship.

Three conference games were played Saturday, Chicago meeting Northwestern, Indiana clashing with Illinois and Iowa meeting Purdue. None of the games was of a decisive character, but considerable interest was shown in the Chicago-Northwestern game in order to get an indirect line on Minnesota and Wisconsin by competitive scores.

This is always an unreliable method of comparing teams, but it makes the Gophers and Badgers stack up about even. Chicago was beaten by Minnesota 30 to 0 and was held to a 9 to 3 score by Northwestern. Wisconsin defeated Northwestern 23 to 3 and should have had another touchdown. This gives the two teams that meet Saturday almost an equal rating.

This is borne out by the fact that Chicago's win had an element of luck, a blocked punt giving them a touchdown and a flying start after the game had progressed but two minutes. The other tallies were field goals. Illinois and Indiana struggled through a no score tie at Indianapolis, while Iowa trimmed Purdue.

One of the big surprises is the way Michigan has hit the toboggan. At the start of the season they looked like the greatest team in the country. They began sliding when Vanderbilt gave them a hard battle and the finishing touches were put on when Cornell trimmed them Saturday 6 to 0.

Fear is now being expressed that when the Wolverines clash with Pennsy next Saturday that they will again feel the sting of defeat. The easterners took a brace Saturday against Lafayette and although supposed to be one of the weakest of the big teams they are liable to come back against Michigan.

The game which caused considerable comment in the east was the Dartmouth-Princeton game, when the Tigers won when Dewitt's kick bounded over the bars. The Green was not reckoned by critics while Princeton is being boosted for the title, and it is certain that no eastern team will have a walkaway. Yale secured revenge by beating Brown and rubbed it in by using subs. Harvard was beaten by the Indians but it is not a crushing defeat for substitutes were also used against the Redskins. It is of considerable moment to the Indians for they may go through the season without a defeat.

BADGERS WORKING
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 13.—Coach Richards began grooming his proteges for the championship struggle with Minnesota next Saturday by sending them through a hard scrimmage on the frozen gridiron this afternoon. The men showed considerable speed as they ran through their formations and the offensive work was particularly bright.

FINGERS IN EYES FATAL
SPENCER, Ia., Nov. 13.—Blood poison, supposed to have been contracted while handling money, caused the death Saturday of Mrs. Fanny Hagerty, for twenty years deputy county clerk of Clay county. The blood poison settled back of the eyes and went to the brain. It is believed Mrs. Hagerty got the disease germ off the money in her hands and then rubbed them in her eyes.

MORRIS SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY

Lieutenant Governor Urges Interest in Government and Persistence in Work in Address

Lack of interest in welfare of government, is given as the cause of the downfall of Rome and other great empires which have fallen, in an address delivered to the students of the W. B. U. by Lieutenant Governor Morris Friday afternoon. He urged the students to study the civic and political ends of government and to work for the best interests of their country and state at all times.

Mr. Morris also spoke on success in life and said that most young people who attend schools have the impression that as soon as they obtain a diploma they have conquered all of the battles of life and that success is bound to follow.

"A diploma is merely a statement to the effect that a person has some ability along a certain line and by persistent work may make a success along that line," said Mr. Morris.
